I About

Vinceremos means to conquer or to overcome and for 42 years Vinceremos Therapeutic Horsemanship Center has been providing equine assisted services to individuals with physical, cognitive and emotional disabilities. Over the years Vinceremos has grown into the center we see today, located on 15 acres in Loxahatchee, Florida, 20 horses call this farm home. In peak season these horses under the direction of certified professionals and with the assistance of numerous volunteers enable the center to provide services to 220+ clients weekly.

I The Goal

This event is to welcome supporters to the farm, to share with them the impact equine assisted services make in the lives of our clients and to have a good time.

“Music may speak the language of the soul but horses feed the soul.”

Additionally, he has won over 35 BMI Country and Pop awards, was nominated for a Golden Globe and Critic's Choice Award for Best Original Song "I Thought I Lost You" for the Disney/Pixar animated feature BOLT, performed by Miley Cyrus and John Travolta, been named one of Billboard Magazine's top 5 writer's 8 years in a row, as well as Music Row Magazine's Songwriter of the Year Award.

Danny Myrick

Muddy water Mississippi preacher's kid Danny Myrick grew up playing, singing and writing for his family gospel band in south Mississippi and had his first #1 gospel song at the age of 17. Upon moving to Nashville, Danny had several more southern gospel and Contemporary Christian hits before founding 90's country rock band Western Flyer, with whom he had numerous top 40 hits. Danny has gone on to have cuts on a diverse range of artists from Kenny Chesney & Montgomery Gentry to Joe Cocker to Maddie & Tae who have sold over 100 million records combined. He has celebrated many hits, such as Craig Morgan's "International Harvester, Tim McGraw's "Truck Yeah", LoCash's "I Love This Life" and 2009's most played country smash, "She's Country". In 2020, Danny released his first solo EP "King Of Jones County", featuring the acclaimed song and video "God Is A Gun", and produced recent #1 albums "Love Out Of Time" by The Voice Season 17 winner Jake Hoot and "Company's Comin' by Actor/Comedian/Social Influencer Leslie Jordan featuring Chris Stapleton, Dolly Parton, Eddie Vedder, Brandi Carlile, TJ Osborne and more.

Dean Alexander

Dean Alexander is a Grammy nominated songwriter who got his first publishing deal by the late Barbara Orbison (widow of Roy Orbison) and whose work can be heard on Brent Cobb's "Black Crow" (featuring Jason Isbell), "Life Ain't Fair" w/ Sheryl Crow, Top 40 with "Live A Little" and most recently, Kristian Bush's "Heart of Yours," Kendall Marvel's "Hell Bent On Hard Times," and a many more, as well as multiple TV/syncs including the hit show NASHVILLE. He has shared the stage with acts such as Dwight Yoakam to Sheryl Crow & John Fogerty to Jimmy Buffett.

A survivor of Nashville's music industry, having earned his stripes as a Gibson Guitar luthier, Lower Broadway performer, major-label artist, and A-list songwriter long before embracing his independence where he shines a light on his traumas and triumphs with his debut full-length album, Devil Man's Blues. Dean writes about himself, spinning a rich (and, at times, tragic) backstory into raw, rugged roots music laced with dark humor, bright melodies, and instrumentation that splits the difference between 1970s folk-rock and modern-day Americana. He's continuing to carve out his own signature corner in the roots world with a new record in the works.
